“My focus and highest priority is secure document management and confidentiality. I enjoy partnering with clients to find efficiencies that will help them through the litigation process.”

Carol McCoy joined Miller Nash in 2019 and works as a paralegal supporting the firm’s employment, construction, and general litigation teams. Carol has more than 20 years of paralegal experience assisting attorneys, coordinating federal, state and appellate court filings, managing high volumes of discovery, and working with electronic databases. She has extensive experience organizing deposition and trial documents and providing all levels of support before, after, and during trials.
