“I take a collaborative and holistic approach to client service by understanding the importance of exceptional attention to detail as well as a client’s big-picture business concerns. Overall, my aim is to help companies maximize their bottom line and effectively manage their risks and liabilities in a cost-effective manner.”

Jodi Green is a member of the firm’s cannabis and insurance recovery teams and represents clients in a range of non-litigated and litigated business matters.

With over ten years of experience in insurance coverage, Jodi is familiar with a vast range of first-party and third-party insurance policies, including among others: Bermuda Form, builder’s risk, cannabis and hemp, commercial general liability and excess, crime, cyber, directors and officers and management liability (D&O), employment practices (EPLI), homeowners; pollution; property and business interruption, and representations and warranties. Jodi has also evaluated coverage for disputes arising in a variety of contexts, including: advertising injury; cannabis and hemp; construction; employment and wage disputes; ESG and environmental; healthcare, life sciences, and pharmaceutical claims; sexual abuse; and mass tort and products liability, many of which implicated hundreds of millions of dollars or more, such as the Las Vegas Harvest Festival lawsuits and the opioid multi-district litigation matters.

Jodi’s insurance coverage background encompasses disputes arising in numerous jurisdictions, including Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, and Wisconsin, as well as international disputes arising under Bermuda, Canada, and English law. Jodi has also evaluated and litigated insurance coverage issues in bankruptcy and has litigated motions to withdraw the reference and motions to compel arbitration.

By working with insurance brokers and clients at the policy procurement stage—including in mergers, acquisitions, and other corporate transactions—Jodi helps clients evaluate and understand how insurance policies work together to avoid coverage gaps and duplicative coverage. She also negotiates broader policy provisions and advises on complementary insurance and indemnity provisions
