“I strive to provide responsive, thorough, and efficient legal services to clients. Above everything else, I focus on being client-centered in how I approach problems to ensure that I tailor solutions to the client’s needs.”

Beatrice Bremer Lucas focuses her practice on land use and real estate matters. She assists clients, including developers, public entities, and private land owners, with all aspects of land use permitting, including preparing land use applications, navigating the permitting process, and ensuring projects are approved consistent with applicable regulations. She also prepares and negotiates real estate documentation for development, businesses, and other clients, such as purchase and sale agreements, leases, covenants, easements, and boundary agreements. She advises clients on a myriad of issues related to development and real estate.

Before joining Miller Nash, Beatrice worked as an Assistant Attorney General for the Washington State Office of the Attorney General, and as a judicial extern for the U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Washington, where she assisted with drafting memoranda, reviewing pleadings and motions, and attending hearings. During law school, Beatrice was a member of the Regulatory and Environmental Law and Policy Clinic where she assisted clients with an appeal to the Washington Supreme Court.
