“I provide prompt, professional service with a focus on practical, results-oriented solutions. I handle matters with diligence, integrity, and meticulous attention to detail to help clients navigate complex legal challenges and achieve meaningful outcomes.”

Lisa Lee is an associate on the firm’s litigation team, and her practice is focused on complex commercial litigation. She supports clients through the full lifecycle of a project, including managing client intake, conducting legal research, drafting pleadings, and managing discovery and motion practice.

Prior to graduating law school, Lisa spent two summers as a summer associate at Miller Nash. As a summer associate, Lisa conducted legal research and document review and drafted legal memoranda, deposition summaries, and requests for discovery. Before law school, Lisa worked as a legal assistant in the Washington State Attorney General’s office. Her background also includes twenty-two years in the United States Navy, first as an enlisted Sailor and later as a Human Resources officer, working in recruiting, training , and personnel operations.
