“Decades of experience have given me exceptional insight into proactively anticipating clients’ needs and I rely on this experience to consistently provide thorough and accurate information. I partner closely with our attorneys to deliver high-quality work under demanding deadlines to help ensure our clients receive favorable outcomes.”

Stuart Wylen supports the firm’s bankruptcy & creditors’ rights team. He is an experienced paralegal with thorough knowledge of bankruptcy law and procedure as well as federal and state civil procedure in Oregon and Washington. He has substantial experience in bankruptcy practice, receiverships, commercial foreclosures, and multi-jurisdictional litigation support. He is well versed in preparing claims, pleadings, motions, demand letters, foreclosure and lien documentation, trustee and receiver filings, docket analyses, and hearing materials.

Before joining Miller Nash, Stuart worked at a prominent Pacific Northwest law firm.

Personal Activities

In his free time, Stuart volunteers teaching jazz musicianship and pursues conversational fluency in various foreign languages.
