“I take a thoughtful, yet direct approach in working with clients, focusing on what truly matters to them. By combining clear communication with the firm’s collective experience, I endeavor to deliver solutions that achieve the client’s desired outcome efficiently and effectively.”

Andrea Moore is an associate in the tax practice team at Miller Nash, where she provides strategic guidance to clients on a wide range of tax matters. Whether helping businesses navigate complex M&A transactions or developing tax strategies that align with long-term goals, Andrea is committed to delivering customized solutions that address each client’s distinct needs. She represents clients across a variety of industries, with a particular focus on affordable housing, advising developers, nonprofit organizations, and other housing stakeholders on tax matters related to housing development, financing, and long-term project planning.

Before joining Miller Nash, Andrea gained extensive experience as a federal tax associate at a leading multinational accounting and auditing firm, where she focused on federal tax law and large-scale transactions. She also advised clients at a prominent Pacific Northwest firm on tax issues across multiple industries. Early in her career, Andrea worked as a private wealth compliance analyst, honing her ability to tackle intricate tax challenges with precision and insight.
